EXPEDITION CONTENT

COMMUNITY PROJECT

Our interactive community project will take place in the small village of Mollepatte set high in the Andes and perfect for acclimatisation before our Salkantay trek. Previous teams have lived with this friendly mountain village repairing the roof to the community school. New teams will assist in the development of the school, learning about village life in this remote mountain community.

JUNGLE EXPERIENCE

The Amazon Jungle is a world of its own. Having travelled by boat into the Jungle our teams live with a family alongside the mighty Rio Tambopata experiencing some of the Wildlife – ‘Clay Lick’ and a night-time Cayman hunting river safari (cameras only).

SALKANTAY TREK TO MACHU PICCHU

From the small mountain community our teams trek the stunningly beautiful Salkantay Trail (one of the most famous Inca routes) that eventually takes us to the hidden Inca city of Machu Picchu. Teams arrive at the gates of the wondrous city in time for the photographs before the sunset. A guided tour around the city ends with a chance to climb the magnificent Waynu Picchu that is the best location for an overall view of the city – but not for the faint hearted.

WHITE WATER RAFTING

From Cusco the teams are taken into the Andes Mountains for a days white knuckle rafting that is a fantastic way to end the trip and relax before travelling home.

LAKE TITICACA

Lake Titicaca is one of the most beautiful lakes in the world and is also one of the highest sitting at 3,800m above sea level. Lake Titicaca is a sacred place for the Inca civilization and is full of history. The team will visit some of the local settlements around the lake including the beautiful old city of Puno.
